Golf is a great game-Tom Martini

Golf is a great game. It is fun to play, promotes fresh air and exercise, and gives a chance to mingle with fellow golfers. The game can be played with people of different skill levels; there are many different places to play. The game gives us room to improve. The game provides anticipation, because the next shot may be a hole out, an escape from trouble, or simply the best shot that you have ever hit.

So during this Holiday Season, give thanks to the fact that we love golf.
